Kids Make Merry At Hallowe'en Party

The annual Hallowe'en party for children of all ages was held Thursday night, October 31, at the Community Building, Jefferson.

The night's festivities began promptly at 7 p.m. with the formation of a large crowd on the public square, and this crowd shifted into a picnic. This party was aided and abetted by the Fire Department and Police Department, who went down Watterson Trail and then to the Community Building, where over 350 youngsters had a fine time running and hollering and making merriment.

As every Hallowe'en party must offer prizes and awards for the most original costuming and dress as well as the funniest attire, the Optimist Club, the Lions Club, the Knights of Columbus, the Arts, and Leroy Eisenback and the actual presentation of awards was made by Guy Romeo. Jack Quick did a splendid job of emceeing the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Gaines, proprietors of the Jeffersontown Optimist Club, which is sponsoring "Youth Appreciation Week" this week, has announced the program of activities for "Youth in Government Day," Saturday, November 9, at the home of John T. Orndorf, who is in charge of the day's proceedings, says he hopes that this program will acquaint the teen-agers of Jeffersontown with the city government. The young people will lead them to take an active role in local government.

"Youth in Government Day" will get underway promptly at 10 a.m. Saturday, when Trotter Dee Guntz, owner of Shelly's Photo Lines, presents a free movie and safety show at the Jeffersontown Graded School.

Next at the Jeffersontown school at 10:30 will be held a giant rally for all those participating in "Youth in Government Day."

Then the day's proceedings will shift locations to "The Humphrey House," where the elected youths will be feted to a dinner by city officials, who will also dine with them.

After dinner, the duly-elected youth officials will visit with the city officials and watch carefully how the intricate processes of government work and what they can expect when they become tomorrow's governmental leaders.

The day's happenings will end at 4 p.m., Saturday, when the Jeffersontown Homecoming Club treats the youths to a "Craft and Talent" show at Jeffersontown School, in which Dr. Jay Wilson will act as supervisor.

County Judge B. C. Van Arsdale won to retain his seat over his opponent Charles E. Gaines, 7,598 to 7,118, a majority of 474.

FRIDAY ————— NOVEMBER 8, 1957

NOW, THEY ARE OUR SERVANTS

This is election day (the day on which this was written). The votes are being cast, and will soon be counted. The results will represent the voice of the people, as expressed and recorded through the process of secret balloting.

When this bit of comment appears in print it will be time for public acceptance of the fate of another term of government, as determined by ballot. According to American legend, Americans are good servants. To the prescribed task of serving, we followed our people are ready and willing to abide by the results, and to accept the chosen candidates as their duly elected public officials.

It is not naive for us to assume that when men and women offer themselves to serve as public officials they are honest and capable; that they are willing to pursue their task impartially. Most successful candidates for public office have counted the cost and are ready to make a sacrifice in terms of monetary returns. They give their best (assuming that they do) not because they receive the most, but rather because they are willing to contribute their utmost to the public good.

Particularly are those who are elected to serve in local government on a nominal salary, or a mere honorarium, inadequately rewarded for their services. Unless they are compensated by intangibles, they spend their time and energies without remuneration.

Therefore the public whom they serve is obligated to them to demand the discharge of their duties as public officials. They have the right to expect public loyalty and support. So may those best qualified, best, best or second best, (and it's not ours to judge) once the electorate has put its approval on them at the polls, all good citizens are obligated to support them in the discharge of their duties in office.

The public servant's job is too often a thankless one. So support him and reward his public spirit, and his courage, with your interest and friendly cooperation.

FOR THE UNION, AND THE PUBLIC TOO

What promises to be an unusually interesting political contest is that of Senator William Knowland of California opposing Governor Knight for the Republican nomination for Governor. Senator Knowland is the present minority leader at Washington. He is a man of outstanding statesmanship and political ability.

The Senator has shown political courage too. One recent example is to be seen in his endorsement of a state-right-to-work bill. This law would enable a worker to join or not join a union as he may desire, without forfeiting his right to work at his trade or chosen vocation.

As a fearless public servant, Senator Knowland is risking his political reputation among the more rabid labor leaders who will, beyond a doubt, denounce him as "anti-labor." In reality he is an ardent friend of labor's rank and file.

In the field of federal legislation the California Senator has a policy and program to which he will give time and able attention while Congress convenes for its next session. Among the first items to be taken up will be: making strike legal only by vote of the union members; having a secret ballot; election of union officers by secret ballot; protection under the law of union welfare and other funds; legal authorization through which union members can override actions of their officers. All of these are definitely favorable to the interests of the union membership, and to the country as a whole, if not too advantageous to corrupt unionism.

Are not Senator Knowland's proposal sound and safe, not to say imperative, for purging from today's union leadership and organization, dictators, goons and crooks? With all the facts produced by the McClellan committee, Beck, Hoffa and their like still ride high and continue to dominate, indicating the imperative need for just such provisions as Knowland is willing to work for.

NATIONAL SELF-ANALYSIS

On this 1957 Constitution Day may we yield to national self-analysis.

Farmers look to Washington—not as free men but as bureaucratically enslaved individuals—seeking subsidies.

Labor looks to the national capital for privileges which an earlier generation deemed dangerous and stripped from the clutches of big business.

Veterans of proved war-time valor em masse accept the gratitude of a debt-ridden government.

Corporations yield to any politically conceived restriction in order to gain government contracts.

Mindful of the blood their generation had spilled and the fortunes it had dissipated, the men who wrote the Constitution pointed to the creative influences of man and claimed: "This is the road to enduring freedom."

Today, everyone asks, "What way to prosperity?", not knowing that the constitutional way is the only enduring road to success.

YOUR $2,400 TAX BILL

Interested in starting fees? Here's one produced by a recent study: Last year taxes—levied by the federal, state and local governments—totaled an average of $2,400 from each of America's 42 million families. Part of this was paid directly and part of it indirectly. Either way, it came out of our pockets and left us poorer.
